Honored to be 1974 Conejo Valley Debutantes by the Conejo Valley Historical Society were Adele Cheney, Judy Francesconi, and Nancy Walter; all from Newbury Park High.

In the spring of their junior year, sixteen girls were selected from throughout the Conejo Valley for this honor, and presented to the public in their senior year. They were nominated by civic organizations and schools based on their outstanding contributions to the community, and their high academic performance.

In October, wearing white formal gowns and mantillas to carry out the Spanish theme, the debs were presented to the community at the elegant Triumpho Ball held in their honor—La Fiesta del Triumpho.

The girls and their escorts, Tom Koeske, Greg Jones, and Mike Courtright, enjoyed a unique and memorable evening.

A new experience for all

Newbury Park High School has had the chance to get to know five students from overseas. Rita Brendon adviser of the foreign exchange program was proud of the results. The students visiting this year were as follows: Kiyomi Obata, from Japan, Pekka Hamalainen from Finland, Anne Lege from France, Phil Hesford from Australia and Maine Petersson from Sweden.

The Drama Department put on several major productions for the student body. Among them was "The Odd Couple" by Neil Simon and "A Midsummer Night's Dream" by William Shakespeare. They also performed many one-act plays such as "Hear the Sound of my Feet Walking, Drown the Sound of my Voice Talking," which was entered in the L.A. Valley College contest.

The Drama classes did a bill of one-act plays; "Another Way Out" directed by Darlene Featham, "Overtones" directed by Terry Cole, "The Old Radio Show" directed by Karen Alberts, "Here We Are" directed by Sharon McCreedy and "The Still Alarm" directed by Juli Lund.

"The Odd Couple" was the Fall production presented at Los Cerritos Jr. High Auditorium November 22 and 23. The cast was made up of the following actors; Oscar: Yuri Parisky, Murray: Matt Chapa, Vinnie: Peter Light, Roy: Scott Barrington, Gwen: Andrea Dean, Cecily: Darlene Featham, Felix: Karl Chlarson and Speed: Kevin Pintar.

The spring play, "A Midsummer Night's Dream," was performed May 1, 2 and 3 at Los Cerritos Jr. High. The lovers were played by Kevin Pintar, Sara Wilson and Kerri Gordon with elves and nymphs throughout the forest.

Express thyself

A new kind-of Drama was worked on and performed by the Drama class. They worked out their skits to lip-syncing. Which is a pantomime done to a record of their choice with movements and facial expressions.

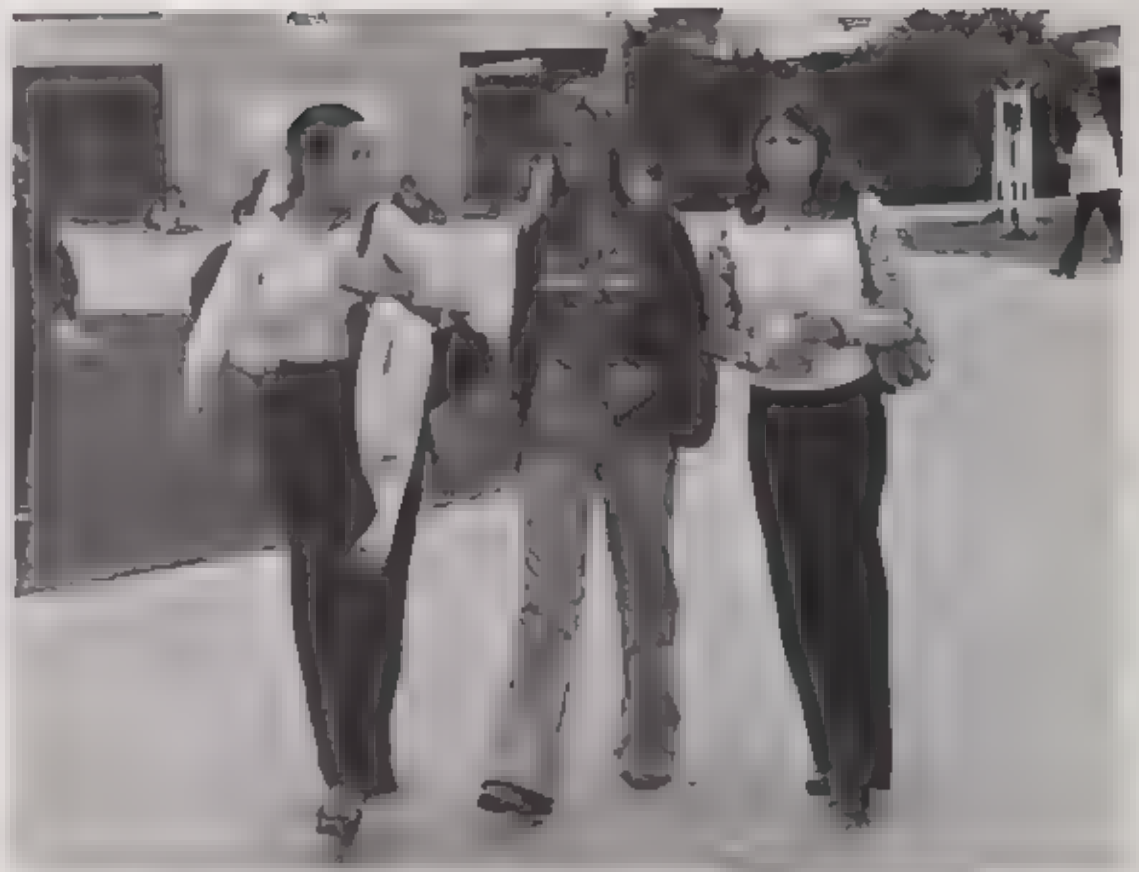

The acts were put on for lunch periods in their own Brown Bag Theater. Other students to perform were Damian Gennette and Tammy Patten. They did such things as "Sugar Sugar" and "Rudolf the Red Nosed Reindeer." A small amount, for a donation, was collected at the door. While the efforts and talented skills of the students were enjoyed thoroughly. The practices took place in class and during any spare time of the students. Customs were not needed for the actors, because all backgrounds and crops were left up to the imagination of the audience. The actors worked hard and portrayed their projects showing talented acting skills.

This year, Homecoming Week was victorious for the seniors. Activities ranged from a greased watermelon contest in the pool to a truck push.

Karen Harlan reigned over this year's court as Homecoming Queen. Her court consisted of Senior princess, Terrie Keen; Junior princess, Debbie McCabe; Sophomore princess, Jane Pugh; and Freshman princess, Laurie Heisser. The dance was held in the gym, with the theme, "California Dreamin." Returning graduates were reunited with former classmates and current students while they danced to the sounds of "The Super Band."

The following night the football team defeated Simi, 26-13 in our Homecoming Game.

Once again the Pawprint staff managed to organize and assemble the yearbook. It was a tough schedule with layouts to make, deadlines to meet, and books to sell. This year's class was a continuing experience. After a one year leave of absence, the returning faculty advisor was Ms. Kristi Colell, aided by co-advisor Ms. Jan Branham. They and their editors, Terry Hall and Sara Schrader molded a quick learning staff of inexperienced rookies into well-rounded journalistic designers. The Pawprint 1975 was the product of their efforts.

Journalism keeps N.P.H.S. students informed

During the 1974-75 school year, the "Prowler" staff, under the editorship of Robin Straussberg put out fifteen issues along with Special Christmas and Senior issues. School response was excellent. Although meeting deadlines kept them extremely busy they still found time for many outside activities. Some of these were; candy sales, car washes, a battle of the bands, a dance, and several write-off contests in which Journalism students competed and won awards.

The Panther Spirit Squad

JV cheerleaders Frosh cheerleaders

This was the year for change. The panther spirit squad added something new, two panther mascots and six songleaders. In addition to our six cheerleaders. The new spirit squad worked hard to build enthusiasm at N.P.H.S. During Homecoming they sold mums to raise money and on Valentines Day, they sold and delivered carnations. The girls were very industrious at raising money for all the sports events and also to have their 1975 yearbook picture in full color.

Panther band adds musical spirit

This year, under the direction of Mr. Fisher, the Mighty Panther band strived to add new dimension to the musical spirit at NPHS. One of the newest experiences of the year was marching in the Simi Valley Spectacular. Along with the usual half-time entertainment, the band participated for the first time in half-time competition at Los Altos High School. In other competitive activities, they performed in the SCSBOA festival and the El Primero Band Review. Along with leading the music of the 1974 Homecoming parade, the band also played in the Ventura County Fair parade and the Camarillo Christmas parade. The group also participated in several community projects including the "Pageant of the Oaks" and the opening of the Bobby Sox season.

Drama Club keeps tight schedule

During the 1974-75 school year, Drama Club was probably one of the most active groups on campus. They started the year off with a demonstration by the make-up artist from the "Planet of the Apes" T.V. series. Next they made several repeat field trips to the L.A. Music Center to observe real theatre in action. Drama put on several productions ranging from Neil Simon's comedy, "The Odd Couple" to Shakespears, "A Midsummer Nights Dream." Also on their schedule of productions was the unforgettable Faculty Play. To draw the year to an end, they held the annual Drama Awards Banquet where several students were honored and everyone was stuffed.

Black orpheus

Under the direction of a new advisor, Mr. Ron Shannon, Black Orpheus had a productive and successful year. A regular event at NPHS is the Halloween haunted house and this year's was a "screaming" success. Christmas came and with it Black Orpheus brought the holiday spirit in song. And with the coming of Spring, the group topped off the year with song and merriment in the Spring productions.

Visual Arts Club:

Under the direction of Mr. Reed and Mr. Valentine, the Visual Arts Club led a very busy and successful year. They held many of their lunch time film festivals, which included Betty Boop, many famous horror films and many others. They sponsored a glitter dance and held a lunch bag decorating contest. Around Christmas time, the Club members got into the spirit by painting the windows at Fazios. Their schedule also included many field trips.

Outing Club heads for the hills

Outing Club started their year off with thirty-five members making a trip to Mammoth for a weekend of snow, good times, and hopefully no broken legs. But Outing Club has much more to offer students than snow skiing, although, it does seem to draw the most enthusiasm. They filled the remainder of the year with backpacking trips, water skiing, camping, and a cruise to the Channel Islands. To help finance these trips they showed skiing films and held a fashion show. This years advisors were; Bob Valentine, Robert Kesting, and John Boden.

German and International clubs

The German Club is intended to mix fun with various cultural activities throughout the year. Field trips were taken to Alpine Village, to amusement parks, and to view a German film. The club also took part in celebrating Fasching and the famous Oktoberfest. This years advisor was Frau Feller it was her second year heading up the group and she kept the group busy with her interesting ideas. This years officers were; Marc Covent President, Gary Enke Vice-President, and Myles Meier Secretary-Treasurer.

Celebrate!

Time is short and days of wisdom are few. Do your searching now, look everywhere, ask how, beg for help, Make your promises, sell yourself. Set your head to the heavens and pick your stars. Now look earthward- feel the hurt, the weakness, the disappointment, recognize the impossible. Do your own crying. Rain feeds the land, rivers feed the sea, Flowers feed themselves, who will feed me? Celebrate! Find your soul . . feed it with bits of broken dreams. a creative writing by Lisa Ragsdale.

Girl's League

This year Girl's League's many active members sponsored a car wash, a candy cane sale, and their annual Christmas Dance in December. January brought many guests to campus for a debate tournament. The girls served their homemade cookies, as well as food and coffee to the visitors. Other activities included a canned food and book drive for the needy, and many guest speakers. Under the direction of Mrs. Reed, Mrs. Mathis, Mrs. Weber, the Girl's League led a very full and successful year.

T.W.P. are H.E.R.O.S.

The members of T.W.P. had a very active year. Among other things, they changed their name from F.H.A. (Future Homemakers of America) to T.W.P. (Teens With a Purpose). Just some of activities included a trip to San Diego for the F.H.A. conference. Homecoming week, they held a class competition with Spirit Chains and assisted with the float building. At Thanksgiving, the club had a surprise Thanksgiving Dinner for a needy family. They made candied apples for the faculty, and at the faculty Christmas party, they served an assortment of homemade goodies. Their hectic schedule also called for a Mother's Day luncheon. Under the direction of Mrs. Grosman, the members of T.W.P. were kept pretty busy.

W.A.A.

The purpose of W.A.A. is to support Women's Athletics by sponsoring fund-raising activities, playdays, sports nights, and all kinds of neat stuff like that there! You dig!?!?

JV Football

"We're number one!" That was assistant coach George Hurley talking about the 1974 junior varsity football team which had just finished its season with a perfect 9-0 record and a league championship, the best J.V. team in all of Ventura County.

The sophomores outscored their opponents 336 to 68, an average per game score of 37-7. While the offense was rolling to big scores, the defense prevented their opponents' offense from ever scoring more than twice in one game. Even more impressive, the first team defense was scored upon only three times all season.

Consider that the sophs beat Agoura 40-8 (Agoura finished 2nd in their league), they beat Buena 40-16 (Buena won their league title) and they defeated Camarillo 36-0 (Camarillo finished 2nd to the Panthers). The J.V.'s crushed other Ventura County teams by scores of 41-6, 34-14, 34-0, and 42-8.

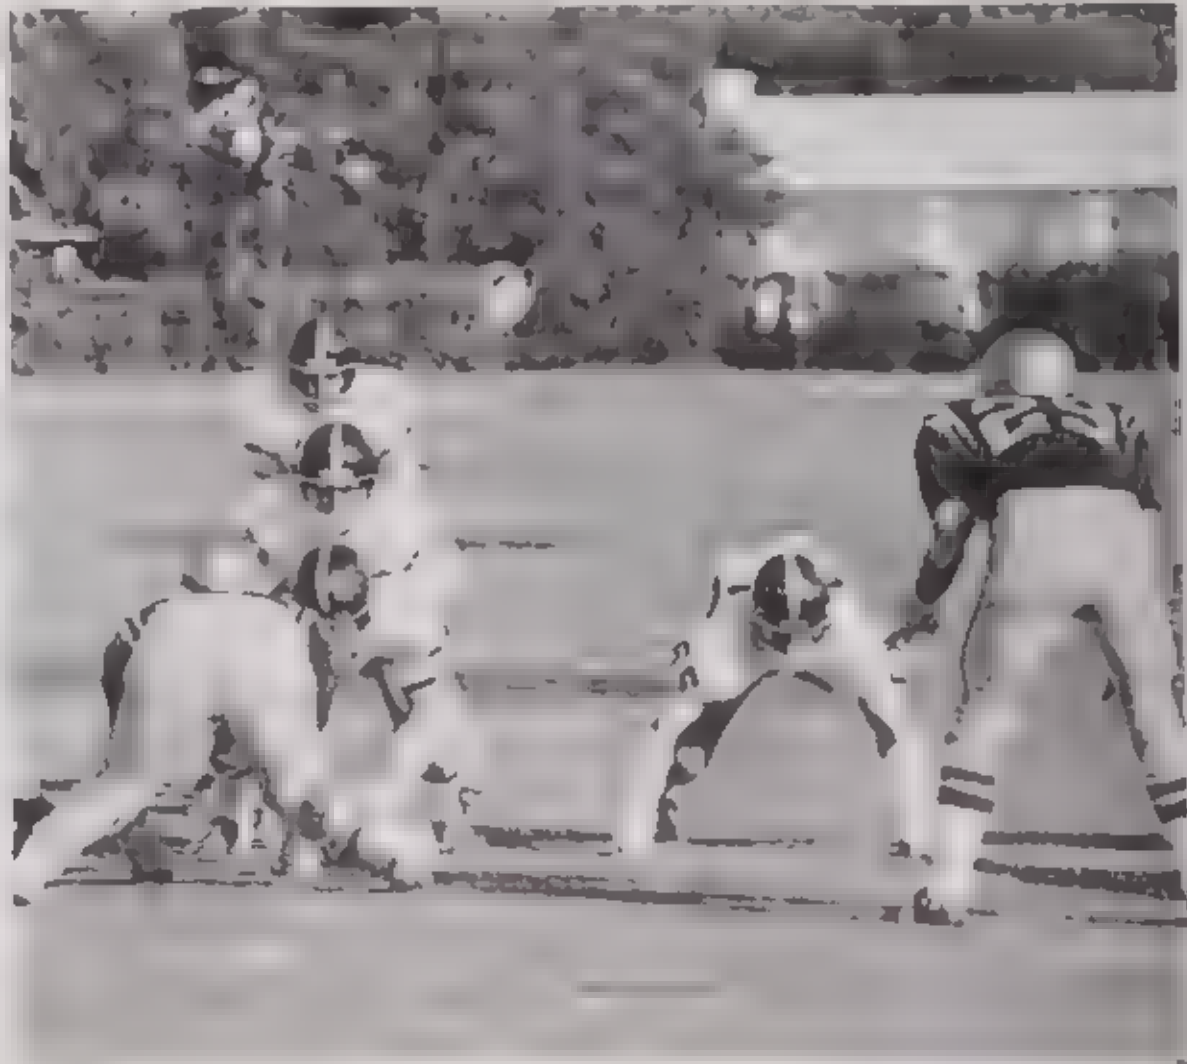

The junior varsity's high scoring offense was led by Jeff Mathews, Dennis Carlson, and Ken Mosley. Helping Mathews average nearly 160 yards rushing a game was an offensive line of Jeff Willong, Bob Reed, Dave Henson, Ron Barr, Steve Willis, and Bob Hughes. The powerful defense was led by Jim Dykstra, Kurt Kohler, Pete Suterko, Rod Manson, and Trevor Hambrook. "We had no weaknesses, the talent was super, the consistency great. In 18 halves of football we scored on our opening drive 13 times. That kind of consistency doesn't give the other team a chance."

"Don't be so grabby," says Jeff Kunisaki

Confusion!

This year, as in the past four years, the freshmen football team had another highly successful season. The yearlings compiled a 6-6-1 record for the season. Although out-sized throughout much of the season the freshmen team came down to the last game undefeated.

The most exciting game of the season, other than the championship game with T.O., was with Hueneme. The score was tied 6-6 with just one minute remaining in the game, Greg Paquin hit Jon Allen with a 40 yard scoring pass to preserve their undefeated record. The championship game with T.O. was a hard fought contest with Thousand Oaks coming out on top 8-6. Newbury Park scored the first time they had the ball when Greg Paquin scored on a 25 yard run. The point after attempt failed and N.P. went in at half-time leading 6-0. T.O. scored the second half on a 30 yard run by Jim Reaves. Their attempt at a conversion was successful which was the margin of their victory.

The 1974 Varsity Polo team wound up their season with a third place finish. Some new faces on the team this year were Tom Meloth, a transfer student from Agoura High School, and Terry Pepperdine from Long Beach, they both aided in the teams success this year. J. B. Holston made an impressive showing in the first game against Nordoff scoring 15 goals. Mike Waters, Paul Holzapfel, and Scott Young made up the defense. Sharing the goalie position were John Tricas and Don Fulton.

At the awards banquet Most Valuable Player went to J. B. Holston and Tom Meloth. Most Improved went to Terry Pepperdine. Most Inspirational went to Mike Waters. To show Coach Sawyer their thanks the team presented him with two tickets to Las Vegas.

The 1974-75 Basketball Season opened up with a new coach, Ken Barone, a new offense (1-4), a new style (fast breaking), and a new finish- the Semi-finals of the C.I.F. playoffs!

With only three returning lettermen, Captain Mark Schroeder, Thaddeus Francis, and Lyle Dybwad; many felt that the Panthers were in for a rebuilding year, though both Mark and Thad had been starters for the past two years.

Coach Barone then inserted Juniors Russ Zabel and Jeff Wellington into the starting line-up and the Panthers were off and running. Outstanding reserves were led by Ted Broadway, Kevin McKniff, Chuck Blat, and Ron Miner at the center and forward spots, along with Bob Svendsen, and Rick Oldenkamp at the back-up guard spots.

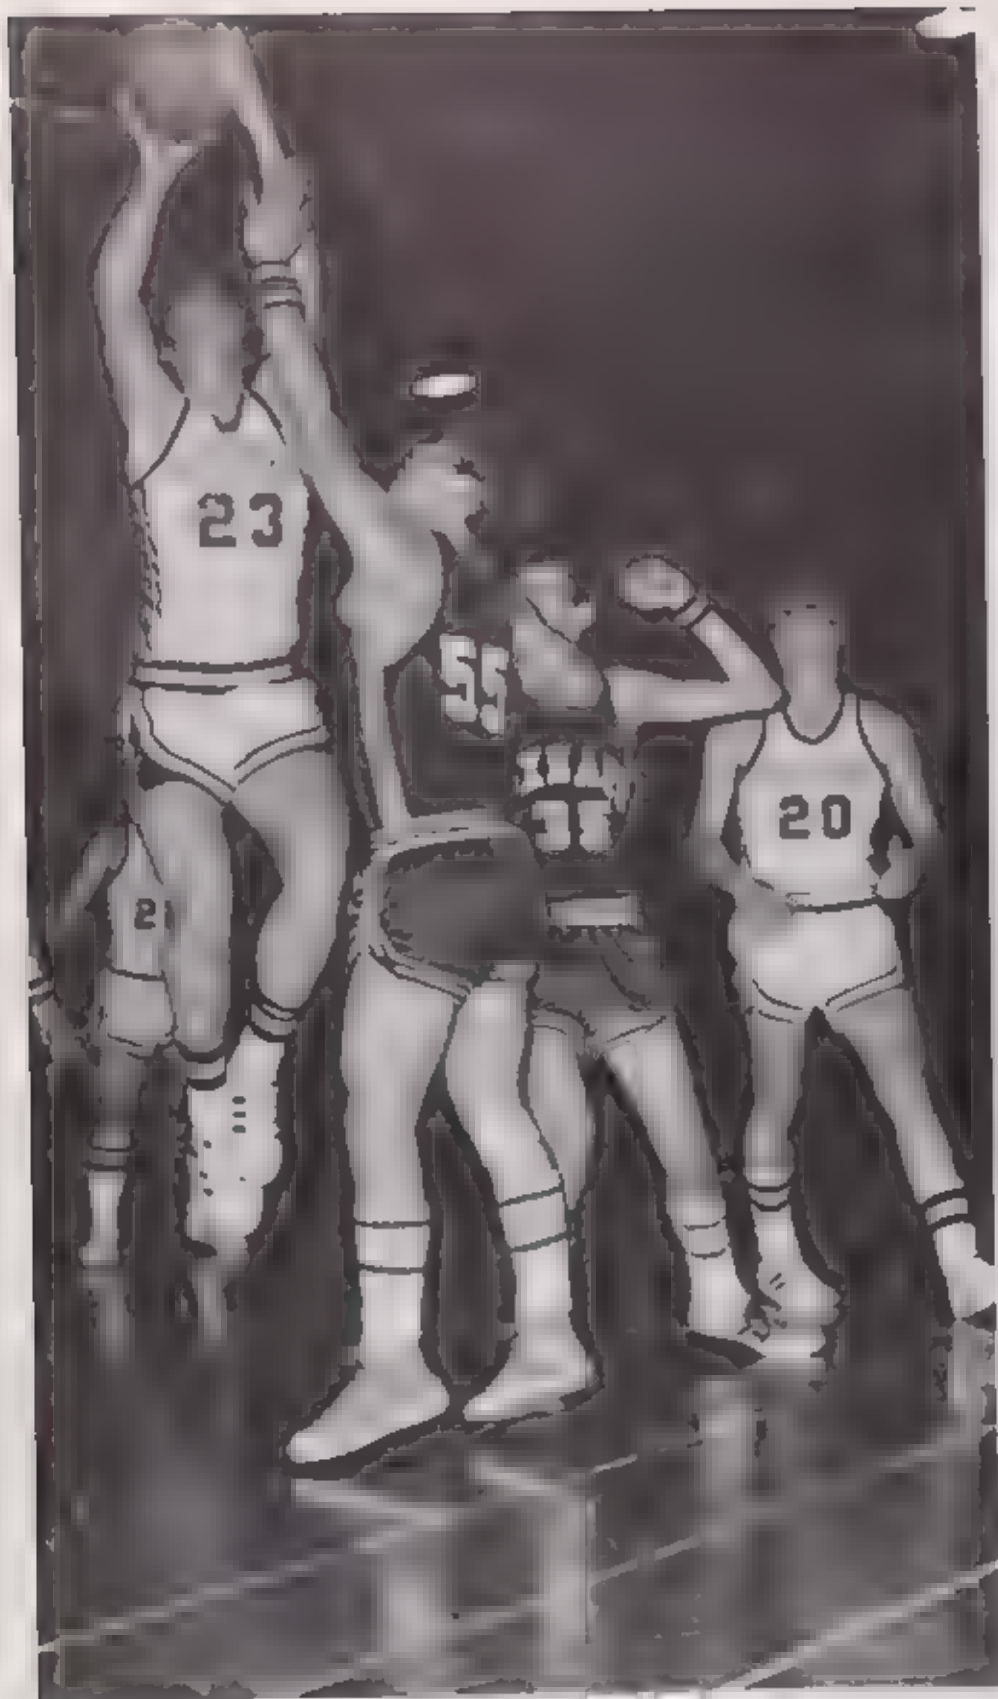

After an opening Marmonte League win over Royal, the Panthers were stalked by both Camarillo and Oxnard. Coach Barone then brought up Kent Keyser, a freshman, and Steve Apperson, a junior, from the J.V. team to add dept to his squad.

The Panthers went on to finish 3rd in the Marmonte League with a 6-4 record including a big win over then number two C.I.F. ranked Camarillo.

Invited to the playoffs, Newbury Park quickly showed the experts we deserved to be there by soundly defeating Mount Carmel (Santa Fe League Champs) 82-61. Next number two rated Los Amigos (Garden Grove Champs) was stalked and defeated by the Panthers 54-52. Onto the 3rd round and Lynwood (San Gabriel Valley Champs) met defeat at the hands of the Panthers 69-65. The Panthers finally lost against the Mission Valley Champions and number three rated San Gabriel Matadors 58-49 in the Semi-Final game.

The team has much to be proud of; we finished higher than any other team in our short history.

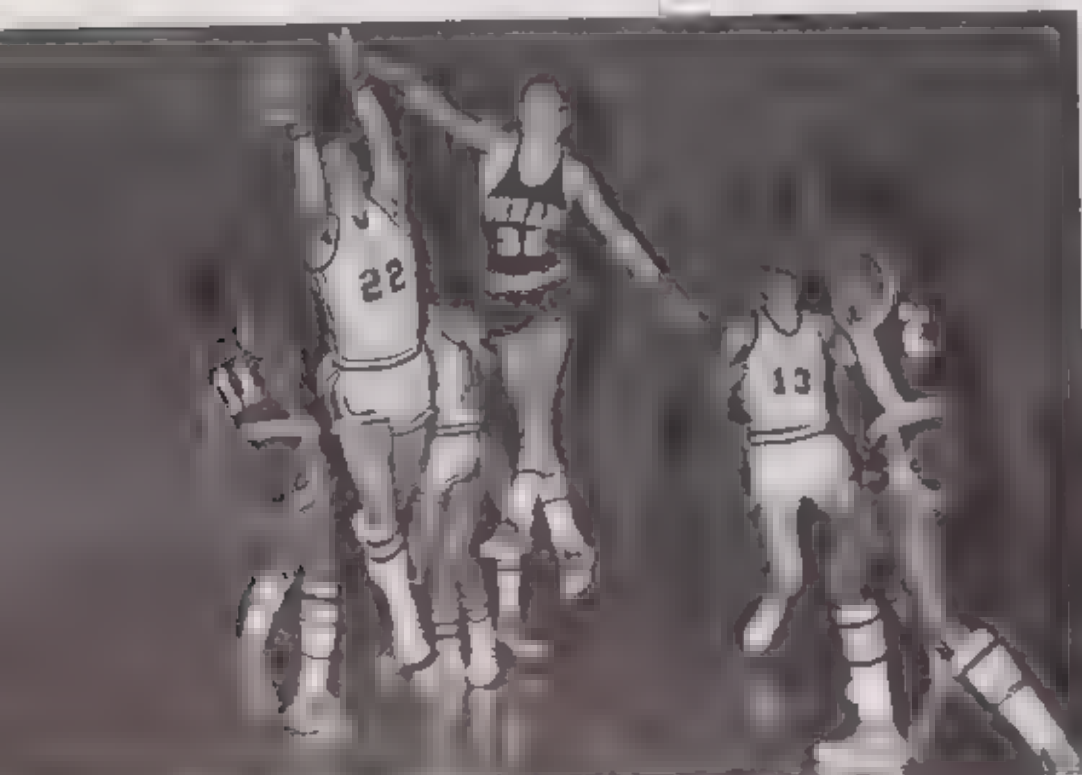

Coach Barone is looking towards next year for another winning season.

The J.V. Team had a most satisfying season. They had to regroup after losing Steve Apperson and Kent Keyser to the Varsity Team. The remaining members worked together to pull off a good season.

"A lot of people were surprised at how well we did after losing our two best players. This was the best J.V. team N.P. has ever seen!" commented Coach Cummings.

The leading scorer was Matt Broadway, 9.7. The leading rebounders were Matt Broadway and Dave Styka.

The team came in 2nd place with an 18-6 overall season and 8-2 in league.

Along with many other sports tennis has a new coach, Coach Dick. He feels that the team should win the league if there are no injuries or any unpredictable situations. The team is led by number one man Tom Smart, at the time of printing he has a record of 20-1. He is a threat to the other teams in the Marmonte league. Coach Dick is quite pleased with the way Tom is playing and hopes he will play the same throughout the season. Coach Dick is also pleased with Jackie Ballinger, Gorden Burford, and Tim Hacket. Good luck to the panther tennis team.

The 1975 panther baseball team had a lot to work for after the 1974 team's victory in the Marmonte League. Last year's team had a record of 19-5 and went into the second round of CIF. This years team had five returning lettermen including "All League Choice" Ron Kunisaki.

Coach Merrill had a young team and a very inexperienced one. He was satisfied with the overall improvement over the season. This years team had young pitchers compared with last years Geoff Combs, Bill Schopp and the "Most Valuable Player in the League" Mark Hendershied. The 1975 Panther pitchers included Scott Krving, Randy Doner, coming up from the J.V. team, Steve Mazucca, who also plays first base, and Russ Zabel, also from the J.V. Team.

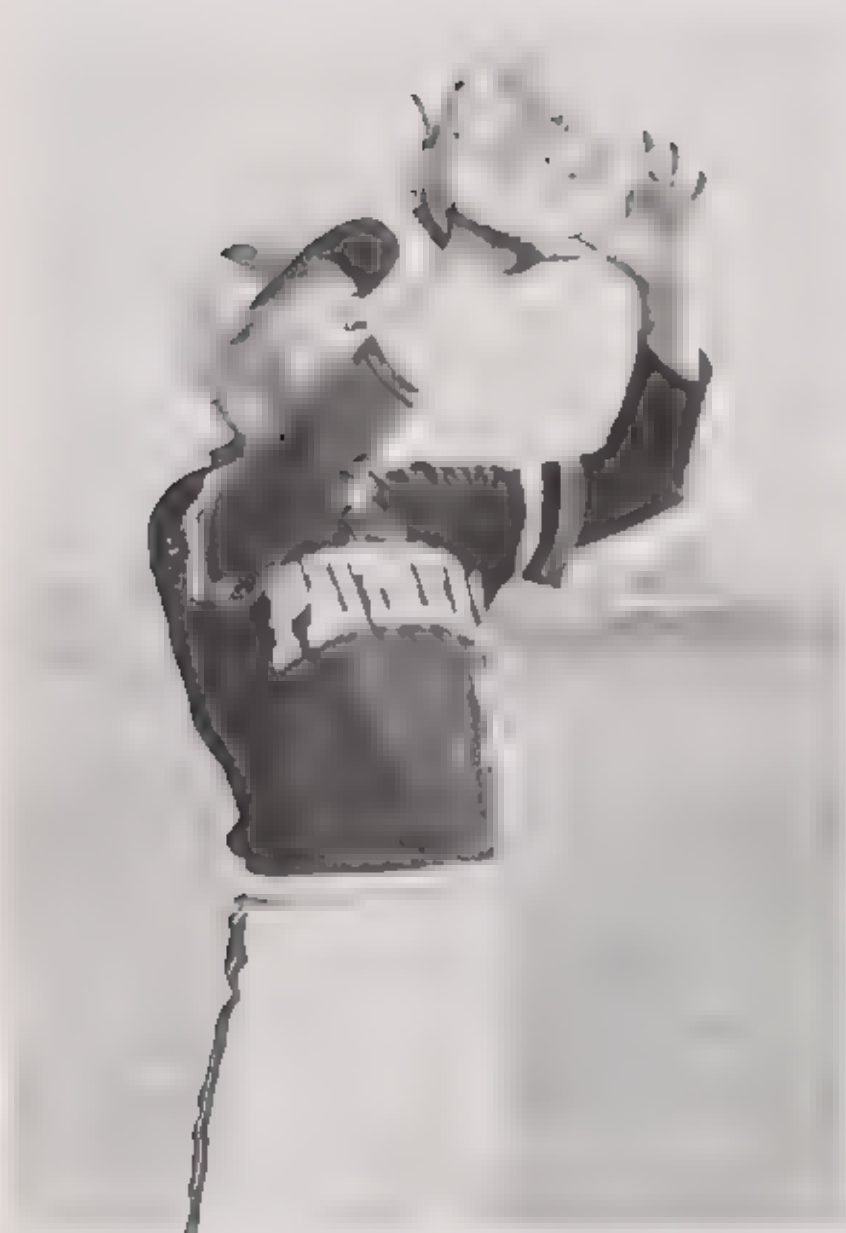

Yet in the long run, the 1975 Panther Baseball Team did their best to follow in the "paw prints" of the '74 Marmonte League Champions.

The J.V. baseball team coached by Bob Hendrix should do well this year. The beginning of the season started slow because most of the games were rained out. The team has a good strong infield with Jeff and Rich Kunisaki and a productive batting game. Coach Hendrix is very optimistic about this years team.

Girls' athletics plays by CIF rules this year

Newbury Park High's Varsity Volleyball team has had a trying season. As they are now competing under CIF rules, competition is stronger, and tension is heavier. Although the team had no wins up until the second-round play-offs, their spirit was not dampened, and they went on to defeat Camarillo triumphantly. Cheering the team on from the sidelines was Coach Marti Dibble, a third year teacher at our school.

Receiving awards for outstanding playing this year were Yolanda Guerrero and Nanci Downing, who both made the Marmonte League All-Star team. Yolanda Guerrero also received the Most Valuable Player award for the second year in a row, as she was the team high scorer and most inspirational player on the court. Nancy Getman was awarded Most Improved Player for her effort and stamina.

The Junior Varsity Volleyball team has had a season of victory, but also a season of defeat. With a 2-8 record, the girls on the team worked hard developing their skills. Along with their coach, Nori Parvin, the team members stayed after school until 6:30 p.m. practicing their bumps, spikes and sets.

The high scorer on the J.V. team was Cathy Paterson, with a total of 55 points in 10 matches. Theresa Hagman, who was always hustling on the court, won a trophy for being the Most Valuable Player on the team. Always in there trying her hardest was Amy Cohler, whose hard work paid off as she walked off with a trophy for the Most Improved Player.

Robin Robb, who came to us late in the season from Arizona, won all but one of her matches and was named Most Valuable Player. Sheri Rice worked hard to improve her skills and played in all the matches. She was chosen as Most Improved Player.

Our Newbury Park Girl's Basketball teams went through a hard season. With two new coaches added to the school, new teams were formed. Nori Parvin presented new plays which paid off during the Camarillo and La Reina games.

The Varsity team had difficult workouts and strenuous games. Many of the practices were held on Saturdays.

Connie Winsky took the Junior Varsity team and, like the Varsity, worked very hard on drills and plays. They performed outstandingly well against Camarillo (34-6) and Channel Islands (36-4)—two of their best played games. The league standings put the J.V. team in third position.

As the third year of girls swim meets approached, the girls were out in the pool everyday. With the start of the season on March 17, they practiced from 7th period to 4:30 and sometimes 5:00. The swimmers worked on sprints, kicks and pulls of each stroke.

They swam against such schools as Thousand Oaks, Oxnard, Royal, Agoura, Camarillo and Simi. With the League Prelims at Newbury Park a few of the girls swam their way into CIF.

Marti Dibble coached the girls and worked on each individual stroke with them. Rain, sleet, or snow the girls with their coach were out there working and at every home meet Mascot 'Tasha' was there.

Softball season began on March 31 of this year. After days of long practices, the first game was played on April 11. The last game of League play was May 6.

The Varsity Softball team consisted of many good players, some of them were returning for their second year. Those returning included Nanci Downing, Teri Hart, Cathy Sherman, Patty Harpel, Rhonda Torres, Genie Garber, Diane Wilson and others. Coach Connie Winsky's main plan was to "keep the team together for lots of practice and team work."

Her ideas were carried out and worked well, as was seen throughout the season. The positive attitude of team members was shown through their outstanding play while outfield, or strategical maneuvers when batting.

The Junior Varsity Softball team was working in almost the same manner as the Varsity team. Late workouts, weekend practices, and the closeness of the team brought on a very deserving season.

The team consisted of mainly freshmen and sophomores, all of whom had never played on the NPHS team before this year. In the beginning of the season, there were approximately thirty girls trying out. Out of this thirty, only fifteen were chosen to compete.

Coaching the J.V.'s this year was Diana Doyle, a first year teacher at our school. Her constant, optimistic outlook on the season gave the team the confidence they needed to enjoy playing as well as winning. Coach Doyle remarked, "This J.V. team has been a talented and enthusiastic group of girls who have worked hard, but also have enjoyed playing good softball."

Career Center offers new atmosphere

The Career Information Center was established to help all students of Newbury Park High School identify their interests and aptitudes in relation to their future career choices. Students visiting the center find out about careers in a friendly, informal atmosphere.

Students can come to the Career Center for college applications and catalogues, career materials, audio-visual career information, guest speakers representing various vocations and colleges, Armed Services information and for participation in the Work Experience Program.

Services available include job placement, draft registration, voter registration, Social Security card applications, and aptitude and interest testing.

A special thanks to those bus drivers and maintenance men who have devoted much of their time to serving NPHS and its students. Also, special thanks to Pete Magallanes, audio-visual man.

Faculty

This year, the Pawprint staff has asked the faculty at N.P.H.S. to write about one of the following subjects:

1. The most humorous event in their teaching career.
2. Their most memorable students.
3. Their most memorable event.

The success of their comments show their enthusiasm and spirit of faculty members toward N.P.H.S. Those who have responded, have added to our "Celebrate Yourself" theme.

Social Science

This year the social science department has been working together to bring a more unified approach to various subjects, in order to overcome the program changes and class alternating each semester.

Separate programs have also been instituted by members of the social science department, such as Mrs. Meyers' psychology studies at Camarillo State Hospital.

My most memorable students have been those I have met this year at NPHS. Arriving as a new teacher midway in the first semester I asked some of my classes to tell me of themselves and their needs. Instead of requests and complaints, I received notes of welcome and offers of help. Thanks—I think you're great.

One day in English 4 the students began to leave without being dismissed. I asked them to sit down, explaining that since I ruled so seldom, I wanted to be at least queen of dismissal. The next day the students marched into the room with a pillow on which rested a sceptre. With it was a scroll signed by all her loyal subjects to "Queen Virginia."

English students exceed school enrollment

There are 2,650 students enrolled in Newbury Park High School, but 2,680 enrolled in English! Full classes, busy teachers, excitement about language and literature — all these describe the English program in our high school. In one room is a beautiful driftwood mobile showing the symbolism of The Scarlet Letter; in another room, a Ken doll with five changes of velvet costumes — all for the miniature Hamlet. From another class comes the ringing tone of a modern-day Marc Antony. In still another room, students pore over a dictionary trying to get to the root of the root.

Since the study of English is a combination of the building of skills and the discovery of content, each English class, including electives, offer all the aspects of English — reading, writing, speaking, conjugation, declension, paragraphing, explication, understanding and theme — and did you know that when Charles Darnay went to Paris Have you heard what is happening in South Africa and did you hear and what do you think?

Home Economics is involved with preparing high school students for the outside world. The subjects included in Home Economics teach the student to be independently wise with the basic knowledge of living away from home. English and Mathematics, courses which are required, aren't used on a daily basis. Art Department

Dear Mom,

The art department at this school is really great! They have film festivals every month: Betty Boop, Horror movies, and stuff like that. In December we decorated Fazio's Market for Christmas.

There are lots of great courses to take, like print-making and photography. The photo lab has been improved, and now people with cameras are all over school, and developing very well. Many students won awards at the Pageant of the Oaks contest for their work in painting, drawing, and photography

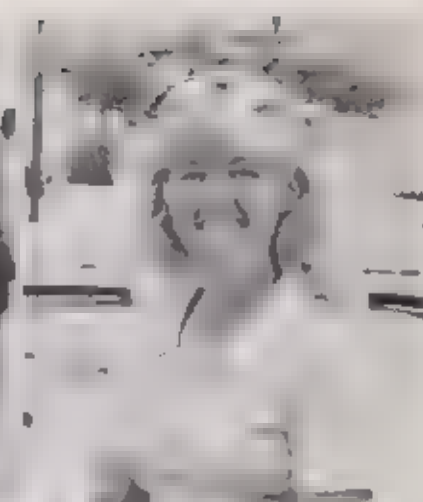

All of the art teachers are back, including Mrs. Colell, who took last year off to have a baby! She enjoyed the vacation so much, she's taking another. All her vacations seem to come with babies.

I think I'll take art next year.

Your son,

Music Department

The music department comes in assorted sized and shapes; 150 band members and attached units marched in parades and performed half-time shows, while 85 Black Orpheus members gave their talent to musical shows throughout the year from Back-to-School Night through the Spring Show. Others, such as the stage band, have performed at various school activities in concert, and hosted their own Jazz Festival.

Sande Washburn, D.C.

I announced to my class to meet on the field and said, "Mrs. Washburn's Softball class meet on the field."

The department is involved in a new Physical Education Program this year. It is experimenting with co-ed classes where the students are provided the opportunity to enroll in co-ed or regular P.E. classes. The classes are taught by teachers from both Girls' and Boys' P.E. Co-ed activities include such sports as archery, softball, badminton, weight training, and tennis.

The students also have the unique opportunity to elect the three sports and teacher for the semester. So far, we have between three and four co-ed classes each period.

Long range plans include ability grouping and specialized classes for gymnastics, dance, and athletics.

Said the amphibian to the marsupial, I'm being bothered by plathelminthes. Said the marsupial to the amphibian, "You should see my nematodes." And as they talked they sailed down the bile duct and up the duodenum to the islets of Langerhans where they built a nucleolus from an endoplasmic reticulum, some ribosomes and a Golgi body. There they lived happily eating lipids and amino acids.

My most unusual teaching experience occurred in Mexico City while teaching a junior high English class. I was given 45 youngsters and virtually no materials with which to work. Despite all obstacles, it was a truly broadening experience for all of us.

Aside from the usual classroom activity, the foreign language department has been busy sightseeing. Numerous events and celebrations from different countries take place in the Los Angeles area, and the foreign language students share in the festivities by taking field trips — German students went to Alpine Village, and some Spanish students spent the day at Olvera Street. French, Italian, and Russian students were busy sampling the food from their particular country.

To me the rewards of teaching do not come during the school year, but the months or years afterwards, when students write or call back from their jobs. There are five of my former students working for the FBI all in the same office. The first one of the five is now the office supervisor. Their presiding officer nicknamed the five girls "Weber's Wonders."

The academic resource center

Business

The Business Education Department has been busy preparing students for the business world. The methods of preparation that are offered to the students of N.P.H.S. include work experience, wages, field trips, and classroom work related to the real world. The faculty in this department have been exploring a variety of activities to constantly improve students' efforts in dealing with an ever-increasing complex world.

My amusing incident occurred to me as a brand new teacher at N.P.H.S. I met, almost simultaneously, my new principal and head counselor and wondered whether I had inadvertently signed a contract with Tulsa Unified.

The Academic Resource Center is a small group instruction class whose main function is to combat the cookie cutter consciousness that pervades much of public education.

The students and teachers who make up the center, realize that not everyone comes from the same academic mold, and therefore strive to adapt the program to the needs of the student; something they have found to be a rather rare and novel concept.

In the machine shop we have a unique situation in which I, as the instructor, can give much individual help. My boys are not a number, but a person who I get to know and hopefully understand. This, then, shows me the good in each of the boys; and helps me understand the why's of his shortcomings. I like to, then, remember all my boys, not just one or a few since each of my students has taught me something. I really like my job.

Herb Henderson

My most memorable event in teaching was the day the pipes in the boys' rest room were broken and flooded the wood shop.

Industrial Arts

The Industrial Education Department has been quite busy this year. They have added two new members, Mr. Bill Beaubien and Mr. Jim Ganser, both in the wood area. The department worked together at the Ventura County Fair placing third for their display. Mr. Barker and his Architecture II class are currently involved in the design and construction of the memorial marquee.

CLASSES

Freshmen

Like every Freshmen class of the past, the arrival of the 'class of 78' brought with it several new changes. Probably the most dynamic of the arrivals was the shifted schedule for Freshmen and Sophomores. Opinion was often times voiced by the foes of the new schedule, but most managed to adapt to it. Although the new shifted schedule helped to alleviate the over-crowded condition, some of the old rivalry between the underclassmen and the upperclassmen may have been lost in the shuffle.

Another was that this year's class was the first incoming Freshmen class to "experience" registration. The selection of courses and their instructors was for some a frustrating and disappointing start to four years at NPHS.

The year was not a complete upheaval of basic traditions, as many participated in the traditional activities. The Welcome Dance, an annual favorite was again hosted to welcome the Freshmen class and received a phenomenal turnout.

Homecoming Week saw the birth of the class spirit. Long evening hours were labored to assemble the float, which in itself was a first. This was the first year the freshmen float ended-up as what it was planned out to be.

Spirit for this class was not an idle adjective. Winning class competitions was just the beginning. During the year, the class became so "spirited" that they were suspended from attending the rallies.

With a beginning like this one, the 'class of 78' should hold memories for years to come.

Sophomores

Sophomores officers: Mary Podorsek, President; Shelli Holmes, Vice President; Laurie Pesout, Treasurer; and Debbie Moore, Secretary.

The sophomore class contributed to their second year of high school in many ways. Along with the usual homecoming activities, floatbuilding, and football concessions, the class had a car wash, a booth at NPHS fair day and a raffle. Other activities included a candy sale, a class play, a Spring dance and a boy-girl basketball Marathon. The year concluded with winning the Spirit Chain and a farewell Pizza Party. It is hoped that this year will be treasured by many.

Juniors

Junior Class Officers: Peter Stamos Vice President, Aspasia Drivas Sgt. at Arms, J. B. Holston President, Vicki Lacascela Secretary, Ken Shappet Treasurer.

The Class of '76 hosted many school activities this year, including the Fifties Day and Dance. There was a lunchtime sox hop and a fifties costume contest. The band "Sterno and the Flames" lit up the sky for the fabulous Fifties Dance. The Junior class helped provide concessions at several home football and basketball games. The Juniors had a twenty-four hour dance marathon. Most important the Junior-Senior Prom was a fantastic success as the Juniors raised a vast amount of funds to subsidize the cost.

Being the class of the centennial year the Juniors are given the emblems of the nations two major political parties as their spirit mascots. Juniors have always been socially involved but even more so when they supported many of the issues in the November '74 elections.

SENIORS

The class of "75" celebrated and now we're through

The class of 75 celebrated their fourth year at NPHS with a booming start. A twenty mile Senior Cyclethon took place with an all-you-can-eat picnic at the midpoint. This was a great financial push and along with working concessions for football and basketball games, the Seniors were surviving.

Homecoming was next on the agenda. This brought the Seniors together every night for a week in the building of the winning homecoming float. Other homecoming activities also showed the "spirit" of the class. The Seniors had a special interest in the greased watermelon throw—or should we say greased freshman throw??

The Senior Ball was a "great success" according to those who attended. The people at Sportsman's Lodge were even nice enough to exchange our room for the half expected 400 couples to a smaller room for the 57 couples who were present.

Fifties Day brought out the spirit in all of us, and the Seniors were on an upward climb once again. All too soon we got hit with another rally and when it was time for class competition . . . the Seniors looked pretty bad. By having connections with the judges we managed to retain our good reputation.

The Seniors also participated in the annual "Let's see how much we can rip them off" time of the year all year long. This included such memoirs as the senior sweaters; caps and gowns (which we are privileged to keep!); year-books; announcements; etc; etc; etc. . . Naturally, this didn't create an abundance of enthusiasm.

Grad night will soon be with us and then the class of 75 can look back at the fun and the laughter and maybe shed a few tears for the past, and a lot of smiles for the future.

"Oh, so that is Larry O'Connor!"

"But Judy, I need the picture today, my deadline was yesterday."

That's it, no more.

Pawprint editors Terry Hall and Sara Schrader.

This was our yearbook, Pawprint '75. It's come a long way from the ninety-six page book of 1968 and so has the school. The close of another school year has come. The Seniors of '75 have been ousted by the incoming seniors of '76, but memories will stay and this is how it was.

Our Freshmen year saw the birth of the swimming pool, a pool which seemed to take forever to build. We even got a day off when the workmen broke the water main. The Freshman Homecoming float that year was one which probably will not be forgotten, no matter how hard we try. It's the only float that started out as a moon and ended up as a scoop of ice cream. Ours was the last class to ever be subjected to "Slave Day." This was also the last year that the boys restroom in building C was in one piece.

As sophomores we were the "Hairest class ever" and the local barbers and beauty shops will always think so. This was also the year we played war games on the quad. The entire campus looked like World War I France criss-crossed with "Foxholes" from the broken gas line. Most of us had running bets on whether or not we would make it through the day without falling into one of those trenches. 1972-'73 the year of no heat in the classrooms, and no hot water in the showers. Spring came and the ASB convention that lasted FOREVER. Cold McDonald's hamburgers and watered down orange drink made it all worthwhile???

Junior year and the class of '75 was in the dark with daylight savings time in January to "help" the energy crisis we needed flashlites to find our first period class. The school was saving energy, too, no lights!! And what can you say to a P.E. class playing football in the dark?? We were saved from the Energy Crisis then Watergate. We bid good-bye to the class of '74.

So there we were, Seniors. The entire school emersed into a school bond election. The class went out and showed the community "we cared."

With the overpowering sound of "Beach Baby" and as we were all "California Dream'in" 1975 was the year of the surfer. The class float depicted a beach scene complete with sand and empty beer cans.

All in all the class of '75 is unique. We've never seen our school in one piece. With the swimming pool, the gaslines, this year the mar-que and additions to the school the class of '75 will survive.

Changes have been numerous. We said goodbye to Ms. Padden and Mr. Tapper and we welcomed Ms. Armstrong and Mr. Benefield, (But we said goodbye to him soon after) and found sociological significance for Mr. K.

When all is said and done we will miss the smell of burning trash cans, the games, the quad, chilli-macaroni, jitterbuggen' with "Snotty Scotty and the Hankies," the friends, the goodtimes and the bad times.

Now as editors of Pawprint '75 we would like to thank O'Connor Brothers Photography, Don Kille our publishing representative, the administration and faculty. Thanks to Mrs. Branham for her moral (?) support, her sense of humor and her house on the beach. We are especially thankful to Mrs. Colell for enduring our continual harrassment, problems, deadlines, and our antics.

Good luck class of '75 you will be remembered

Keep smiling,
Terry Hall and Sara Schrader
Editor Pawprint '75

I would like to express my gratitude to the two responsible for our extensive pictorial 1975 yearbook. A special tribute goes to Larry O'Connor and his studio and Judy Francesconi our overworked student photographer. Even those working on the yearbook staff frequently overlook and neglect to be grateful for the many hours donated by the photographer, "the real workhorse" behind the annual. I say thank you for aiding in the production of this 1975 Pawprint.

Sincerely,
K. A. Colell
Yearbook advisor
